Creative interiors you'll want to look at

London has a wealth of beautiful homes – those uniform rows of Victorian facades, trendy apartments that were once industrial buildings and grand mansions oozing history all create a varied landscape that ensures the city is one of Europe's most dynamic capitals. But what about inside these abodes? Journalist Emma J Page looks through the keyhole to find everything from the richly decorative to the coolly pared-back: plenty to feel inspired by and a chance for a good sneak peek too – we're in full support of a little nose around...
